

Abstract

Title: Case of Study of Physiotherapy Care of Patient with Diagnosis Elbow Joint Luxation with Abruption of Processus Coronoideus and Caput Radii

Summary: The theme of bachelor thesis is a case of study of physiotherapy care of a patient with the diagnosis of the elbow joint luxation with the abruption of processus coronoideus and caput radii. The fall on the extended upper extremity usually precedes this injury.

The basic goal of the theoretical part is to search processing of the diagnosis of the elbow joint luxation with the abruption of processus coronoideus and caput radii.

The goal of the special part is processing of the case study of physiotherapy care of the patient with the diagnosis of elbow joint luxation with the abruption of processus coronoideus and caput radii using examination methods and therapeutic procedures, which fill the Curriculum of the bachelor degree programme in physiotherapy.

Keywords: therapy, luxation, elbow joint, case report